FOREWORD

Westminster is many different things to many people. To some it is a period of serious preparation for the future, to others it is not so serious. To all it is a way of life. To some this way of life is of itself an enjoyment, a delightful experience. To others, it is sheer drudgery, but a rewarding experience.

We will never forget Westminster nor will Westminster ever forget us. As each person that passes through takes with him the mark of the school, so also does he leave his mark on Westminster.

The ARGO has attempted to record those marks which have been made in the past year and at the same time to record a bit of the way of life found here. It is meant as a tribute to the Class of 1964 and to Westminster.

PRESIDENT OF COLLEGE

Dr. Will W. Orr has completed fifteen years of service as President of Westminster College. Since coming to Westminster in 1949 from a pastorate in Des Moines, Iowa, Dr. Orr has been minister, educator, and fund-raiser for the college. Aside from his vast administrative duties, he is an avid water skiing enthusiast, and his boat is a familiar sign of spring on Brittain Lake. During the 1963-64 college year, Dr. Orr received a much deserved leave of absence, and in April he returned to his desk to begin what Westminster hopes will be many more years as chief administrator.

DEAN OF COLLEGE

Always available for academic guidance and counseling, Dr. Charles F. Saylor provides an important link between the administration and the student body. As Dean of the College, his duties include establishing and scheduling courses, planning the curriculum, and consulting with numerous students.

This year special thanks and appreciation go to Dr. Saylor, for in addition to his own heavy schedule, he shouldered the duties and responsibilities of president of the college in Dr. Orr's absence. We owe him much for making this college year run as smoothly as ever.

ART

Members of the college community as well as visitors have enjoyed the Art Department's displays in the Arts and Science Building throughout the year. A display which attracted great attention was the "junk sculpture." The work was an exercise in texture for which students arranged innumerable common items on a board and sprayed it with silver and gold paint. Other displays featured jewelry, serigraphs, water colors and oil paintings.

In addition, the department brought art shows to the gallery each month. A number of wood cuts were added to the permanent collection along with a sandcast sculpture by a Westminster alumnus.

BIBLE AND PHILOSOPHY

The Bible and Philosophy department seeks primarily to increase the student's knowledge and appreciation of the Bible. Also, it provides a program of field work authorized by the United Presbyterian Church for the Christian education major. Through its philosophy courses, it endeavors to acquaint the student with the great thinkers and philosophical systems of the past and to help him develop a wholesome philosophy of life.

To assist in fulfilling these purposes, the department added two new full-time instructors to the staff, Mr. Robert Coughenaur and Mr. Jack Rogers. Another staff member, Dr. Thomas Gregory, on sabbatical leave, spent the spring semester studying in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Any upperclassman may elect to take an independent study program in consultation with Dr. Gese. In addition to independent study, other factors have enhanced the department's effectiveness. A microtome, used in cutting thin sections for slides, and a photomicrography unit, were added to the department's facilities this year. To complete the new addition in the Biology department, Mr. Fabian received his doctorate.

CHEMISTRY

The distinguished staff of the Chemistry department heads its list of assets. Dr. Percy Worrick, Jr., whose major field of interest is physical chemistry, began instructing courses in the fall semester. In addition to his undergraduate and graduate work, Dr. Worrick has studied under three post-doctoral fellowships. Dr. Dewey DeWitt, Chairman of the department, was awarded a grant by the National Science Foundation to continue work started last summer at Georgia Institute of Technology.

To keep astride with the rapid developments in chemistry, the department has undertaken a program to revise the curriculum, which will be implemented within the next two years. First, the department will offer a general course which will provide a thorough background in chemistry for majors and non-majors. Those successfully completing this basic course will be permitted to elect specialized courses in the following years. It is hoped that chemistry majors will supplement their field of concentration with extensive study in biology or physics.

ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS

The mechanized wander.

Many changes have taken place in the Economics and Business department this year. In addition to moving its location to the Arts and Science Building, the department has added a new course, Data Processing, and has purchased many pieces of equipment. The purchasing of new electric typewriters, bookkeeping machines, and electric computers has enabled the department to be among the best equipped of the small colleges in the area.

Along with the theoretical and practical training provided, many students are given the opportunity to operate the machines in the college offices. The Director of Placement, Mr. Christopher Shinkman, works with industries and business corporations throughout the nation to locate jobs for the seniors.

The Department of Education and Psychology has expanded both its graduate and undergraduate programs. In June, 130 received the Master of Science in Education degree. Also, the department has been busy with student teaching arrangements. During the past year, 145 students completed their student teaching. This effort involved the cooperation of principals, superintendents, supervising teachers, and members of the college faculty. In addition, the department is instrumental in helping students find teaching positions.

ENGLISH

The English Department continued this year the program of seminars designed to be of interest and help to prospective secondary teachers. Topics for these hour sessions included the short story, grammar, grading themes, bibliographies, and drama. One of the most stimulating seminars was centered on a discussion of Macbeth, Oedipus, and The Crucible.

Five professors joined the teaching staff in September, Dr. Marilyn Dentan, Dr. Marian Fairman, Dr. Mercedes Manjian, Miss Jeanne Braham, and Mr. Robert Richardson. The department's increased staff enables a more diverse curriculum.

History repeats itself.

For the past several years the History Department has participated in a Washington Semester program. Sally Benson and Lee Dale, both junior History majors spent a semester at American University in Washington, D. C. during the past year. While in Washington, Sally and Lee worked closely with experts in their fields of interest, and they were able to observe at first hand many of the intricacies of the American political system. The program is an institutional arrangement between the two schools, and it is open to any interested student, regardless of his major field. The highlight of the department's year was the work it did in coordination with the Mock Convention Executive Committee.

LANGUAGES

The Language Department strives not only to teach students to speak a foreign language but also to instill in them a better understanding of the peoples of the world. This seems more important today than ever before because of the general misunderstanding and mistrust among nations.

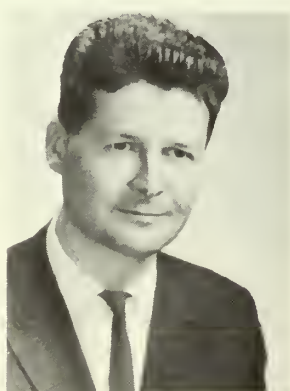

In addition to three modern languages, this department offers both Greek and Latin to be studied both for their own sakes and as a background for other language.

MATHEMATICS

An ever increasing interest in mathematics is developing in America. More students are continuing their mathematical studies in college; there is greater variety in the courses offered these pupils; and the graduate with training in this discipline now has an attractive array of employment opportunities awaiting him. With these facts in mind, the Mathematics Department is attempting to meet the challenges of the present and to make a significant contribution to the mathematical education of today.

This year several very special events provided memorable highlights for the Music Department. Between semesters the Concert Choir toured the East, enjoying the sights of New York City and some real southern hospitality in Virginia. The Easter vacation band tour to Buffalo was an innovation, which, judging by its favorable reception, may become a tradition.

In March the Music Department joined with the Speech Department to produce Gilbert and Sullivan's Mikado, providing a full orchestra for the production.

Members of the department honored at the end of the year for their service to the college were Mr. Caldron, Miss Kirkbride, and Dr. Peabody. Dr. Peabody received her doctorate this year from Indiana University.

Bouncing, jouncing, and trouncing fill an important need in the lives of the students, providing opportunity for physical recreation. For women the program includes the Gymnastic Club, which this year brought its activities to a close with a show on Parent's Day. Also, women may participate in a variety of intercollegiate sports including hockey, swimming, basketball, and tennis. Intramural sports provide year round opportunities for men to match their skill in football, basketball, and baseball. All activities meet with good response from the student body.

PHYSICS

A basic understanding of physics is becoming more and more important in all realms of science. Therefore, a minimum of eight hours in this field has become a requirement for all science majors at Westminster. Even non-science majors are encouraged to take the less technical courses in the belief that the present world demands that everyone have some understanding of the basic sciences which have become so much a part of our daily lives.

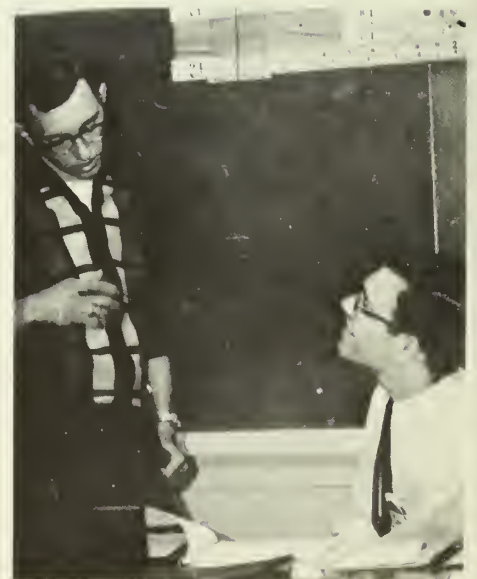

The Physics Department offers not only the basic courses but also much more highly specialized ones for those who have made this their chosen field.

Perhaps some of the success of the Speech department this year was due to its new chairman, Mr. William G. Burbick, who recently received his doctorate from Ohio State University. The department treated its audiences to three excellent productions, The Lark, The Mikado, and The Importance of Being Earnest. The Mikado was produced in cooperation with the Music department, and its enthusiastic reception was evidenced by the many students cheerfully whistling the jolly Gilbert and Sullivan tunes.

Homecoming Weekend, 1963, was highlighted by the crowning of the queen, Diane Mylting, Sigma Kappa's candidate, by last year's queen, Jean Moore. Included in Diane's court were Jacqueline Phillips, Alpha Gamma Delta; Linda Wood, Beta Sigma Omicron; Anna Latronica, Chi Omega; Nancy Schlafer, Delta Zeta; Willa Stevenson, Kappa Delta; and Nancy Kline, Phi Mu. The winning fraternity float was the Sigma Nu entry, "There's a Titan in the Wash." In sorority competition Phi Mu took first place with their entry, "We've Got a Tiger on Our Team." In dorm competition, Shaw was awarded first place for their decoration. "Westminster for Those Who Think Young."

Big nome entertainment this year wos of the highest quality os Westminster wos host to two well-known vocal groups. In the foll o performance by the Smothers Brothers drew copocity crowds to the Arts and Science auditorium for on evening filled with laughter. The second concert of the year was given in the spring by the Four Preps who presented o voriety of numbers which were very well received by the oudience.

The quadrangle becomes a barnyard.

Free cider for the girls.

Crime is brewing.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 35th President of the United States.

November 22, 1963

The day began with a roll of drums and marching feet, the sounds of a fraternity campaigning for the election of one of its members as IFC King. As the day grew older, students collected in small groups near Old Main, laughing at fraternity men in strange costumes and drinking free cider. Hillbilly music mingled with the military beat of a drum, and students wandered aimlessly, enjoying a rather unusual Friday morning. Even the procession of black-clad "mourners" following a "caffin" fit into the general mood. This was a day to mock death—this was a day of festival.

The carnival atmosphere even seeped into the classrooms on that Friday. There was an increased excitement about the rest of the day's activities; fun on a large scale was invading the campus.

It was hard to concentrate on the professor's lecture. Then the door opened and a man handed the professor a slip of paper. She continued lecturing for a few minutes and then read the announcement to the class: "The President of the United States and the Governor of Texas have been shot." These words that seemed to come out of a history book struck each student like a slap in the face. Some just looked at each other. Some thought it was a rather bad joke. All were stunned and overwhelmed. A student raised his hand and asked a question about the lesson. The teacher answered—no one really heard her. The class was over and everyone got up and left the room.

Some students had gathered around a radio in front of the Classroom Annex. From the radio came the cold words—"The President of the United States is dead."

Inside the Annex all was confusion. Students wandered up and down the halls, staring at each other but seeing nothing. Some stood at the doors of the history department offices waiting for someone to give them an answer and hoping that they would suddenly wake up. Their mouths said nothing, but their faces asked unanswerable questions.

In Old Main a faculty member completing his class at the 2:30 bell noticed about twenty students in a tight but oddly quiet group in the hall. A few more people were walking toward or past the group. Someone was saying, "Na, it's not a joke," in an inappropriate monotone.

Administrative secretaries looked at their typing but didn't really see it. Figures on the business farms were nothing but print. The radio became a vital link with 180 million bereaved Americans, and the routines of the office disappeared as an indelible experience stamped itself upon each office worker by his typewriter or computer.

A large crowd of students listening to radios stood like statues in front of the Union. The word "dead" echoed as it bounced off the walls of the buildings and the stone-like faces of the students. Others joined the group, standing there motionless until the initial shock had passed.

Then the fraternity men quietly took down their campaign decorations. Someone put the flag at half mast. Students now walked around the campus, each with his own blank feeling of disbelief. No one spoke; words weren't necessary. The day of festival had become a day of mourning.

The Little Theater participated in three productions during the school year. The first dramatic production, The Lark, directed by Mr. Darrell, related the story of Joan of Arc's trial and her account of the voices which called her to save France. The play presented a unique use of flashbacks showing the development of Joan's career as it moved toward the climax, her execution.

The highlight of the dramatic presentations was the production of Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado, which required not only acting ability, but musical and dancing ability as well. Directed by Dr. William Burbick, The Mikado proved to be highly entertaining to its audiences. Colorful scenery and costumes, gaiety of spirit, and a wide range of talent combined to produce an excellent performance.

The final production of the year was the satiric farce about prudishness and propriety, The Importance of Being Earnest, directed by Mr. Vander Yacht. The story involved the complicated double-identity of Jack Worthing, alias Ernest, guardian of a very attractive ward, and his young bachelor friend, Algernon Moncrieff.

CHOIR TOUR

A six a.m. donut, a strange house for the night, thirty-five close friends, one suitcase apiece, the subway to Greenwich Village, a catnap at the U. N.: such are the ingredients of a choir tour. This year's trip East to Philadelphia, New York, and Washington, D. C. provided both a good time for the choir and good will for the college through the many friends made at churches and schools where concerts were presented. In addition to the choir-ists' humor, Mr. Martin, Mr. O'ack, and Miss Hileman, our happy hostess, helped keep things in a state of constant confusion.

Myers, the Ars Nove Trio, and the Symphonic Singers of Erie.

Raymond Bartholomew, permanent chairman, presides over Mock Convention.

On April 22, 23, and 24, the student body staged a Mack Republican National Convention. This was the seventh Westminster Mack Convention; the first was held in 1936. Initial plans were made in May of 1963 by Political Relations Club and Student Council. In October an Executive Committee was formed, composed of twenty-two students from fifteen campus organizations. Dr. Delber L. McKee, chairman of the Department of History, Political Science, and Sociology, served as the Mock Convention faculty advisor.

By the end of February, the Credentials Committee had found students to fill each of the positions for campaign manager and state chairman. Altogether, nearly 850 students participated in Mack Convention.

Early in April the state chairmen began to call caucus meetings to organize their delegations and to discuss strategy. On April 13th the campaign managers kicked off their campaigns. Each of them sponsored several units for the big pre-convention parade on Wednesday evening which featured floats, convertibles, bands, a drill team, horses, a covered wagon, and nearly 500 student marchers.

Mack Convention officially opened at 3:45 P. M. on Thursday, April 23. After reports had been heard from the Credentials, Permanent Organization, and Rules Committees, the convention began its debate on the party platform.

Congressman James G. Fulton of Pittsburgh delivered the keynote address Thursday evening. Following Congressman Fulton's address, the convention resumed the platform debate which was finally completed at 12:30 A. M. Friday morning.

At the Friday sessions the names of the Presidential candidates and the favorite sons were placed in nomination. Following each nominating speech there was a loud and colorful demonstration. Once all nominations had been made, the convention proceeded to the Presidential balloting. Senator Goldwater led on the first three ballots. On the fourth, Ambassador Lodge surged ahead. Governor Scranton made healthy gains on the fifth and sixth ballots. Strategic switches were made to Lodge on the seventh; and before the official tabulation of the vote was made, the chair entertained a motion to declare Henry Cabot Lodge the nominee by acclamation. The motion was adopted.

Vice Presidential balloting was the next order of business. Gov. Scranton, Gov. Hatfield, Gov. Romney, and Sen. Martin were nominated. Hatfield received the nomination on the first ballot.

It was 2:15 A. M. Saturday morning when the chairman finally adjourned the convention. After a year of planning and three hectic days full of fun and excitement the 1964 Mack Convention was over. But more than this, the students had had a very valuable learning experience in practical politics. There is a limit to what students can learn from textbooks. It takes a real experience like a Mack Convention to help them appreciate the complexities of the world of politics.

PARENT'S DAY

May Court attendants.

Parents' Day and May Day were combined this year into one thrill-packed day on May 2. Sunny skies drew a large crowd of parents and alumni to take part in the day's activities. During the afternoon ceremonies, the 1964 May Queen, Jean Maare, was crowned by the retiring Queen, Judy Shaup. For the entertainment of the new Queen, a group of ten girls performed a May Day dance. Other afternoon activities included a baseball game, a track meet, and a tennis match.

Sing and Swing was the feature attraction of the evening. The Greek organizations and a group of Independents provided the musical entertainment. The emcees, Grace Manwiller and Hetz Marsh, added touches of humor to the program.

SIGLYMPICS

Al Smith coaches AG's to victory.

Some make it look so easy.

Good to the very lost drop.

Does she or doesn't she?

The futile search.

The annual Siglympics, sponsored by Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, was held in May. Women representing each sorority competed in the events. The Siglympic events were: three-legged race, egg throw, five girl water relay, fifty yard run, penny-in-a-pie, obstacle course, and decathlon consisting of a softball throw. Other events saw the girls crawling on their hands and knees, hopping on one foot, hopping with feet tied together, running relays going backwards, and throwing water-filled balloons as shot puts.

The women of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority were the winners of the 1964 Siglympics.

SERENADES

Frequent practices were a common occurrence in the girls' dorms during the afternoons and evenings preceding the fraternity serenades. The springtime showers were unable to dampen the spirits of the participants although a few serenades were held within the dormitory. The lovely songs, along with the glow of candles and torches, created a romantic atmosphere never to be forgotten by those pin-mates who were serenaded.

"Your Chi O girl . . ."

Crowd awaits the serenades.

Flowers are presented by the fraternity.

GRADUATION

Seniors process into the auditorium.

Graduation weekend began with a Baccalaureate service led by the Rev. Vincent Ross, speaking on the topic "What do you know?" Due to cool temperatures mixed with heavy showers, the graduation ceremony was held in the Arts and Science Building. Despite the weather, spirits were high as each senior participated in the final activity of his college career. The commencement address was presented by Senator Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania. In his remarks he urged the graduates and their guests to become involved in life and especially in politics.

As the diplomas were being awarded by Dr. Orr and Dean Saylor the class of 1964 prepared themselves for a new and challenging life—one that would be enriched with the knowledge and the understanding that is obtained through a college education.

Senator Scott, commencement speaker, receives honorary degree.

Student Council, as the voice of the Westminster student body, serves as a meeting ground for issues ranging from bermuda shorts, permissions for girls to racial equality. Through the efforts of Council, "Big Name Entertainment" is brought to the campus, this year including the Smothers Brothers and the Four Preps. Activities such as Hell Day, Homecoming Day and the Dance of the Year, migrations, campus movies, free dances at the Student Union, campus elections, and Sing and Swing are sponsored by Student Council. This legislative body acts as the official communication liaison between the student body and the administration.

ROW 1: G. Ireland, Adv., D. Bushko, Pres. ROW 2: A. Ambrase, J. Stebbins, A. Latronico, G. Jahnstone, J. Hughes, G. Manwiller, R. Sprague.

The Student Union Board of Governors was established for the purpose of setting up rules of conduct, dress, and management of the student union. They decide on subscriptions for magazines, establish rules of conduct to govern the lounge and dining area, and keep the Union in good physical condition. They also have a hand in the scheduling of social events to be carried on in the Union.

Senate is the women's governing organization on Campus. Its function is to initiate, regulate, and enforce high standards of conduct for Westminster women. In the past year with the help of their advisor, Dr. Catherine McClure, Senate has revised many of the old regulations. The organization also sent the booklet "This Way Please" explaining college regulations to all new women. During the year Senate gave a Freshman Senate Party and sponsored a midnight movie.

Senate

Panhellenic Council, consisting of the President and representatives from each sorority, establishes and maintains the rules of procedure for the interaction of Westminster's seven sororities. Under National Panhel's by-laws, they make and enforce the rules of communication between sorority and freshmen women before and during the two week rush period in February. They also work with I.F.C. in arranging the activities for Homecoming Queens and Greek week-end.

Pan-Hellenic Council

Fraternity government for the four national fraternities on campus exists under the auspices of the Inter-fraternity Council and advisors. Lead by President Robert Sprague, IFC incorporated national rules pertaining to hazing into their constitution. A measure to insure individual voting privileges resulted in a new one-vote-per-member system excluding the president who acts solely as chairman. Two programs directed by the council were Intramural sports and Rushing.

Achievement in the areas of scholarship, leadership, and service forms the basis for membership in the senior women's honorary, Mortar Board. Mortar Board endeavors to encourage growth in these three areas by providing academic assistance, honoring women scholars, holding a get-acquainted party for transfer students, and promoting quiet study conditions in the library. Mortar Board's service to the school begins during freshman week as the members assist the freshmen women through the mores of unpacking, registration, and receptions. This year Mortar Board in conjunction with ODK sponsored a Book of the Semester program to provide students with an opportunity to read and to discuss a current and worthwhile book.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa is a national leadership honorary for college men who rank in the upper 35 per cent in scholarship among men students. One new project successfully initiated this year was the promotion of the Book of the Semester plan which became a combined effort of Mortar Board and ODK and involved reviewing Lord of the Flies by William Golding. The selection of the Westminster Man of the Year Award is sponsored by ODK. The awardee must exemplify the standards and character set by Westminster College but need not be a member of ODK.

Cwens

Lambda Chapter of Cwens, founded in 1946, has been dedicated to "fostering" leadership, scholarship, and fellowship among sophomore women. The Cwens begin each year by helping freshmen girls move into their rooms, proctoring tests, and assisting with the Freshmen Reception and registration. The group serves as a tutoring service, guides campus visitors, and sponsors dances. They provide schooling for an Arizona Indian boy and give $100 to the Ideal Freshman Woman.

Thanos

Service and scholarship are promoted through the efforts of Thanos, the men's sophomore honor society. Selection for membership in the group requires an academic average of 1.5 and qualities of leadership, character, and ability. The honorary society's main contributions are to Westminster's freshmen men, who receive guidance during Freshmen Week and free tutoring service during the academic year.

Alpha Psi Omega

Members of the national honorary Alpha Psi Omega are interested in the many dramatic activities on campus. In addition to supporting college productions, student plays, and recitals, members assist in dramatic presentations in the College Lecture Series and sponsor the Awards Banquet. Outstanding thespians are awarded Oscars in recognition of their achievements in the year's productions. The officers are Floyanne Miller, president; Amy Robinson, vice-president; Sandra Willetts, secretary; and Carlisle Lloyd, treasurer.

Beta Beta Beta

Since 1948, Westminster's chapter of the national biology honorary Beta Beta Beta has attempted to promote biological research and to stimulate scholarship. In addition to holding monthly meetings, the students determine blood types for students and campus visitors on Parents' Day. This year the honorary began records of the occupations of alumni of the chapter. Annually Beta Beta Beta presents awards to the sophomore and senior biology majors with the highest averages in biology.

Delta Phi Alpha

The German honorary, Delta Phi Alpha, recognizes excellence in achievement in the study of the German language. Four semesters of German with a B average are necessary for initiation into the honorary. A 1.75 all college grade average completes the requirement for entrance. The banquet welcoming new members and presenting new officers occurs every spring. An annual project of Delta Phi Alpha is the presentation of a book each year to the most outstanding senior student of German.

Eta Sigma Phi

Westminster's chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, founded on the campus in 1953, is one of sixty-six chapters of the national classical language honorary. Its purpose is to honor outstanding achievement in Greek and Latin and to promote interest and study in these languages. Membership requirements include a minimum of four B's in courses of Latin and Greek. Students who have received a higher placement level must have a minimum of two B's.

B. Kemp, J. Nogle, J. Sinninger.

Kappa Delta Pi

Leading Kappa Delta Pi, the national education honorary, were senior officers: Diane Gebell, Jayce Greenawalt, Lillian Baell, Katherine McClure, and Janice Decker. The members met at the Tavern, November 8, for their annual dinner meeting and recognition of new members. The group's interests center primarily on encouragement of high professional, intellectual, and personal standards for prospective teachers.

ROW 1: S. Shane, B. Cook, J. Pinter, D. Gebell, Pres., G. Phillips, M. Morrison, B. Evans. ROW 2: R. Sarchet, P. Learey, L. Griffiths, V. Halland, J. Lellis, W. Crankshaw. ROW 3: G. Manwiller, J. ## Kappa Mu Epsilon

Furthering interest in mathematics is the purpose of Kappa Mu Epsilon. Since 1950, Westminster's chapter has honored students who have completed three semesters of mathematics with an average of 2.0 or better and whose all-college average is 1.8. Members were chosen in the spring and initiated at the annual banquet. Explanations of various problems, movies, and a meeting of solving mathematical puzzles were included in the honorary's monthly programs.

The Westminster chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority, entertained the freshmen music majors at the annual Halloween party and presented a program of music at the Overlook. The Sterling Silver Achievement Award given to the outstanding senior in the sorority went to Jean Marshall. Officers were: Jean Marshall, Pres.; Linda Merwin, V. Pres.; Sheila Sanders, Rec. Sec.; Kay Kahle, Cor. Sec.; and Virginia Holland, Treas. Advisors were Dr. Ada Peabody and Miss Dorothy Kirkbride.

Omicron Pi Delta

The aim of Omicron Pi Delta, the business honorary, is to emphasize the importance of business and to encourage high academic achievement. Some of the group's most interesting meetings consisted of tours and of outstanding speakers from the business field. To facilitate book orders by the department, the honorary prepared a list of all business books in the library. This year the group sold birthday cakes by letter to give parents an opportunity to stage surprise parties by proxy.

Pi Sigma Pi

Academic honors are recognized through membership in Pi Sigma Pi, the campus scholastic honorary. The selected members have obtained after 75 hours of course study, a 2.4 or better all-college average.

The Spring Honors Convocation is presented through the efforts of the organization, who this year invited Dr. John H. Forry to address the student body. Through Pi Sigma Pi's spring book drive, campus groups and students contribute toward the purchase of books for the library.

ROW 1: L. Rennie, J. Narquini, M. Morrisan, S. Shane, R. Sarchet. ROW 2: J. Decker, B. Myers, A. Smith, S. Stumm.

Phi Sigma Tau

Active membership in Phi Sigma Tau, a national philosophy honorary, was completed this year by Westminster's local honorary, Phi Beta Nu. Serving as officers were seniors Ron Hustwit, president; Harold Wright, vice president; and Don Campbell, secretary. Members of the honorary hold a 2.0 average in philosophy classes and a minimum 1.5 all-college record. Objectives of Phi Sigma Tau are to stimulate thought and create and maintain interest in philosophy.

ROW 1: M. Morrison, B. Copeland, K. Braddock. ROW 2: H. Wright, C. Newmark, J. Miklos, D. Bushko, D. Campbell, Pres.

Sigma Pi Alpha

This year Sigma Pi Alpha has been recognized as an independent Spanish honorary. Spanish is the only language spoken at the meetings. Among the year's program speakers were Judy Nogle and Donna Forrey speaking on education in Spain and Soro Cullings speaking on Puerto Rico. The group hopes to become part of the national honorary in the near future.

ROW 1: C. Foti, J. Albright, S. Allport, R. Smith, S. Euort, S. Arrell. ROW 2: J. Nogle, J. Kelso, J. Decker, Pres., D. Forrey, D. Myers, D. Little.

Psi Chi

The Education and Psychology department provides an opportunity for interested and qualified students to join Psi Chi, the national psychology honorary. To become a member, a student must hold a 1.75 all-college average, must have completed nine hours in psychology with a 2.0 average, and must be enrolled for an additional nine hours in psychology. Customary programs are the presentation of speakers and films concerning some area of psychology.

Scroll

Scroll, the local English honorary, was founded for the purpose of stimulating interest in writing and literature. SCRAWL, the literary magazine, developed from Scroll's attempt to carry out its purpose. Each year Scroll gives a poetry award through SCRAWL and tries to encourage more student participation in campus publications. Each fall the honorary greets freshman English majors with coffee, donuts, and encouragement.

Requirements for Scroll membership are a 2.0 average in twelve hours of English and an interest in literature.

Rho Gamma

The purpose of Rho Gamma, the local business education honorary organized on Westminster's campus in the spring of 1947, is to stimulate creative interest in the field of business education. Field trips to various firms in the area promote the aims and interests of the group. One of the important undertakings of Rho Gamma is the publication of "Information Please," a valuable directory for Westminster personnel.

Sigma Pi Sigma

Since its founding in 1959, Westminster's chapter of Sigma Pi Sigma has honored students who have an all-college average of 1.75 and who have completed three semesters of physics with an average of 2.0 or better. Each month the organization holds open meetings at which lectures are given on specialized subjects in the field of physics. Members help to operate the campus public address system and have sold math tables and chemistry handbooks.

The new French honorary society has taken the name of Gamma Phi Epsilon. Its purpose is to promote understanding of the linguistic aspects of the French language, along with a study of the French people. Membership is open to students who have an all-college average of 1.75 and who have completed one semester of French beyond the 200 level with an average of 2.0 or better. Included in the year's activities was the French movie, "Passion for Life," which was open to all French students.

A college career at Westminster is made up of classes, studies, chapels, serenades, Homecomings, athletics, honoraries, and a Mock Convention. In the 1964 ARGO, the staff has attempted to compile pictures and articles of those activities, organizations, and events which constitute our memories of college life. Nearly forty staff members, under the direction of Editor Carlisle Lloyd, have worked from Freshman Week to Commencement to prepare this book of memories. It is our hope that this volume will be a valuable collection of remembrances for every Westminster student.

Everyone reads the HOLCAD.

HOLCAD

Each weekly edition of the HOLCAD corried complete coverage of all compus oactivities and sports events. In oddition, it provided on excellent forum for student opinion through its editorials and the letters to the editor. A favorite feature of the publication was "Herman," the fictionol seriol written by Maggie Morrison. At the beginning of second semester, the HOLCAD editors abolished "Greek Vine" and replaced it with "Greek Week," a foctuol account of sorority and froternity activities.

The most popular issue of the year was the special edition published by the HOLCAD staff on the opening doy of Mock Convention. It corried pictures ond foctual doto of each of the candidates slated to be nominoted ot the convention, and it gave editoriol opinion on each of the plonks of the Mock Republican Plotform.

Ten dollar owards from Student Council were presented to Bev Shoener ond Ann Hartnett for their work in news reporting ond copywriting.

Short stories, sketches, essays, and poems submitted by students were published in the 1964 issues of SCRAWL. The Winter edition was edited by Robert Kanaby, and Mary Jane Scheidhauer was editor of the Spring issue. Prizes for outstanding entries were won by Mary E. Hermanson, Gary Nedrow, and Pauline McKnight. SCRAWL advisor is Dr. Marion Fairman.

Debate

Over one hundred rounds of actual debate, and approximately thirty-two hundred miles of travel, and endless hours of preparation went into a winning, successful year for the Westminster College Debate Team. Even though all of the members were first-year debaters, the team had an excellent record of awards. Tournaments in which the Debate Team participated included: University of Pittsburgh, Youngstown University, Kent State Buckeye Debate, University of Buffalo, Birmingham Invitational, and Westminster College. In competition throughout the year, members of the team received first place trophies, top speaker awards, excellence awards, and awards in persuasive speaking and oral interpretation.

Faculty Christian Fellowship

Every month members of the faculty and staff gather for dinner and a study of basic theological books. During their third year Faculty Christian Fellowship members have used the books: Ten Makers of Modern Protestant Thought by George L. Hunt and An Interpretation of Christian Ethics by Reinhold Niebuhr. Each discussion is led by a different member of the group. The members have found the meetings a valuable opportunity for fellowship and stimulating thought.

The campus radio station began its 25th year by installing new equipment designed to deliver high fidelity radio transmission suitable for FM broadcasting. Because of the installation of this modern equipment, the station's staff decided to abandon the closed circuit carrier current transmission used last year and to broadcast via tape over WPIC-FM in Sharon. The two 2-hour programs were magazine-format shows blending campus news, world news analysis, faculty interviews, and music. Each of the six half-hour programs featured its own kind of music—folk, jazz, classical, music from Broadway and mood music.

Campus Christian Forum

Campus Christian Forum seeks to provide opportunities for weekly fellowship and unlimited service through its Sunday evening programs; Faith and Life groups; and service teams to churches, welfare homes, and institutions. The Faith and Life groups were continued with great success this year. Twelve groups, including seventeen professors and administration members and approximately one hundred and twenty students, met in the faculty homes to discuss topics concerning campus, national, and world-wide problems. Various Forum programs included movies such as "A Man Called Peter" and "The City of the Bees" and speakers such as the Reverend John Oerter on "Is There a Case for Chastity Today?" and Mr. Galbreath on "Spiritual Healing".

Young Women's Christian Association

One of the first events of the year for Y. W. C. A. sponsor of the Big Sis Program for freshmen women, was the Big and Little Sister picnic. The many service projects for this year included a Thanksgiving box for a needy family, Christmas stockings for an orphanage, Easter scrapbooks for the children's ward at Jameson Memorial Hospital in New Castle, a book drive for the Salvation Army in New Castle, and visitations to Overlook and Elmira Homes as well as to community shut-ins. The monthly meetings centered around discussion of social and moral issues of concern to the members.

PRESIDENT: Beverly Gould

Political Relations Club

In anticipation of the 1964 Presidential election, Westminster students became aware of Political Relations Club, the organization responsible for inaugurating this year's Republican Mock Convention. Monthly meetings brought varied political speakers to the campus, among whom was Jack Blair, chairman of the Young Republican College Council. To facilitate more partisan activity on campus, both Young Republican and Young Democrat Councils were formed within the framework of PRC.

Karux

Membership in Korux is for students who are planning to enter the Christian ministry. During the year Korux sought to promote acquaintance and active fellowship among its members, to give inspiration and information helpful to these men, and to promote and support the Christian activities and ideals of Westminster College. In the fall Korux held a picnic at which Mr. Rogers, the group's new advisor, spoke on theological education in Holland. Other topics for the year were centered on the problems facing the minister today.

Cheerleaders

The Titan cheerleaders are an important part of all football and basketball games, keeping the crowd filled with spirited enthusiasm. With the aid of their advisor, Miss Margorie Walker, the cheerleaders travel to the away games to give the team their support. All school pep rallies are led by this group. During the Spring All-Sport's Assembly, an award is given to the outstanding senior. New members are chosen each fall and represent each class.

Mermaids is an organization of girls who are interested in synchronized swimming and who are elected through competitive try-outs. They are chosen on the basis of grace, coordination and general swimming ability. The main event of the year was a show, "Splashes from a Paintbox," held April 15-18. In this show individual and group performances were exhibited. The Mermaids also performed a portion of the show on Parent's Day.

Mermaids

Varsity W is organized by male students of Westminster who have earned the right to wear the Varsity W by participation in intercollegiate athletics. The requirements of membership are: two letters in one or a combination of intercollegiate sports; or winning one letter in an intercollegiate sport in addition to three years participation in that sport. In the spring a banquet was held to honor the athletes, and awards were given to the outstanding players in each sport.

Sociology Club

Members of the Sociology Club are students interested in the field of sociology, social work and related areas. Activities are designed to stimulate and broaden these interests. Highlighting the speakers was Mal Goode, ABC correspondent to the United Nations, followed by several prominent social workers from the Youngstown and Pittsburgh areas. A spring picnic at the home of Roger Wolcott, faculty advisor for the group, terminated an active year for the club.

B. Wimer, J. Miller, D. Schieber, S. Mayer, J. Davison.

American Chemical Society

The American Chemical Society is an organization found on many campuses. ACS meetings offer movies and speakers discussing topics in chemistry. The aim of the Society is to create a more professional attitude among Westminster's chemistry students. Membership requirements include an all college one point and three chemistry courses. Field trips and national convention meetings add to the program of the American Chemical Society.

Pre-Medical Society

The purpose of the Pre-Medical Society is to acquaint prospective students of the medical sciences with the opportunities of their prospective fields: dentistry, medicine, veterinary medicine, and medical technology. The group sponsors speakers from the medical field who present the views, obligations, and opportunities of their professions. The society's program this year included a veterinarian, a pathologist, and a speaker on legal medicine.

Vesper Choir

On many occasions the 1963-64 Concert Choir, under the direction of Mr. Clarence Martin, introduced Westminster College to the public. A ten-day concert tour through five states and Washington, D.C. brought the college to such cities as Philadelphia, New York, Annapolis, Wilmington, and Washington. Mr. Raymond Ocock accompanied the choir as organist and manager.

Another highlight was the acceptance of an invitation to present a program for the Pennsylvania Music Educators' Association in Harrisburg. The group's all-college concerts included Homecoming, Baccalaureate and a Christmas music program.

This year increased membership in String Orchestra, under the direction of Professor Donald Cameron, made possible a fuller participation in the college music program. Concert chapels, vesper appearances with Concert Choir, the Christmas Concert presented by the Conservatory of Music, and THE MIKADO were a few of the group's performances.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

The Alpha Gamma Delta sorority's fall activities included a Halloween Party, held in the tunnel between Browne and Ferguson Dormitories, to which all the other sororities were invited, and a houseparty, the theme of which was "Hootenanny." At Homecoming, Jackie Phillips was the candidate for queen, and the float was entitled "Give 'em Prell."

The mother-daughter breakfast in the chapter room and the participation in the Christmas Chapel are two annual events. This year the Christmas formal was held at the home of the patroness, Mrs. Rummel, and the spring formal was held at the Beaver Valley Country Club.

Some of the spring activities included two house parties, a Parent's Day dinner, and participation in Siglympics and Sing and Swing. The altruistic project consisted of aid to the Crippled Children's Home in New Castle. This year the Alpha Gam's received the scholarship cup and the sorority basketball trophy as well as the Siglympics trophy.

BETA SIGMA OMICRON

The year began happily for the Beta Sigs when they won second prize with their Homecoming float "Dishing Up Victory," portraying the Rice Krispies favorites Snap, Crackle, and Pop. The Homecoming Day festivities were also enhanced by the presentation of Linda Wood in the Queen's Court.

One of the Beta Sigs' most significant and rewarding experiences was the annual visit to the Mercer Children's Home. International interests led the sorority to adopt an orphan from Jordan.

The social activities of the Beta Sigs included a dinner dance for their new pledges at Shusters, and a formal in the spring at the Coat of Arms. A particularly proud society moment came when Linda Wood was chosen Alpha Sigma Phi Sweetheart at the fraternity's Christmas formal.

The biggest feat of the year was managing to get forty free-thinking women to agree on the redecoration of the chapter room. The year ended with the Beta Sigs' annual intersorority function, their ice cream social.

CHI OMEGA

One of the initial Chi Omega social activities this year was the "Hawaiian Luau" houseparty at New Wilmington Park. Later in the year, the women enjoyed their Christmas formal in the lounge of Hillside Dorm and the off-campus dinner dance in May.

Miss Anna Latronica represented Chi Omega in the Homecoming Court. The sorority's entry in float competition, entitled "Keep Kool, Titans," featured a penguin kicking a football. The women were also hostesses at a homecoming breakfast for their parents in the chapter room.

Their philanthropic project included a food basket sent to a hospital in Pittsburgh for Christmas gifts. In March the Chi Omegas staged an Easter egg hunt for faculty children.

Chi Omega presented its annual awards to an outstanding senior woman in the field of history and political science and the Scrawl Prose Award.

DELTA ZETA

The Delta Zetas presented Miss Nancy Schlafer as their Homecoming Queen candidate and entered their float based on detergent advertisements in float competition. Also on Homecoming weekend, parents and alumni of the sorority were guests at a tea in the chapter room.

A hayride in October was the first houseparty of the year. Other social events included the Christmas formal at the Sigma Nu House and an off-campus spring formal.

The housemothers of the campus were guests of the Delta Zetas for a Christmas party. The evening included brief entertainment, caroling, and refreshments. Later in the year, the Delta Zeta inter-sorority doughnut dunk was held in the Sigma Phi Epsilon house.

Food sales provided funds for the sorority's altruistic project which was the purchase of a one-way window for the Youngstown Hearing Center. The women also visited the Elmira Home in New Castle and Overlook.

KAPPA DELTA

Initiating Kappa Delta's activities were the kick off dance and a movie for the student body. At Homecoming they presented Willo Stevenson as their candidate for Homecoming Queen and their float, "The Jolly Green Giant." The sorority's annual function for other sorority women on campus was the KD Dessert, held in the Student Union. The Kappa Delta social calendar included several house parties, a Christmas formal at the Coat of Arms, and a spring formal at the New Castle Country Club. At Christmas, the Annual Patroness Spaghetti Dinner was held; in the spring a Parent's Day dinner was held at the Tavern.

Off-campus activities on the altruistic level included selling Christmas seals; contributing to the Crippled Children's Home in Richmond, Virginia; and in the spring, holding a picnic for the Mercer Orphanage. The girls also initiated a new chapter of Kappa Delta at Slippery Rock State College.

PHI MU

Hungry co-eds helped support Maria Berger, Phi Mu's adopted orphan in West Germany. Phi Mu women sold popcorn, potato chips, and candy bars to raise money for eight year old Maria. In addition, the sorority sent her Christmas and birthday gifts. Another social service project was the sorority's Christmas caroling at the Overlook Home.

First place was awarded to the Phi Mu's for their homecoming float entitled "We've Got A Tiger On Our Team." The W.A.A. intramural volleyball trophy also went to the women of Phi Mu for the third consecutive year.

"The Lively Ones" was presented by the sorority in a November assembly. Highlights of the all-jazz program were an interpretive dance, a monologue, and a trio.

Siglympics and Sing and Swing rehearsals dominated activities during the second semester, in addition to a spring fashion show, Phi Mu's contribution to the annual inter-sorority socials.

SIGMA KAPPA

Planning for Homecoming initiated the social activities for members of Sigma Kappa Sorority. The group entered "RAID 'em Titans" in the annual Homecoming float parade. Contributions to the campus social calendar included monthly houseparties varying in nature from bowling and Sadie Hawkins affairs to formal dances held in December at the Coat-of-Arms and in May at the Sharon Country Club. Philanthropic projects benefited the children at Mars Home and adults at Overlook and Elmira Homes. The girls in the white blazers were proud to present two campus queens this year, Diane Mylting chosen fall Homecoming Queen and Jean Moore crowned spring May Queen. The sorority members extended bids to nineteen new girls, who were presented at a special house party. Parents' Day festivities involved Sigma Kappa in an afternoon luncheon and in Sing and Swing.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

For the men of Alpha Sigma Phi the initial activity of the fall semester was their introduction to the freshmen women at the annual freshman serenade and their fall tea. Later, singing with the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority, ASP extended Christmas greetings to the entire college in chapel. Other December social activities included a Christmas party for orphans and the winter formal for Alpha Sigma Phi members and their guests at the Carlton House in Pittsburgh.

Spring semester events involved the group in rushing and in sponsoring the traditional Siglympics, from which the Alpha Gams carried away the trophy. In addition, the men serenaded the pin-mates of their brothers, participated in intramurals, and enjoyed houseparties.

The active chapter, alumni association, and mother's club have cooperated throughout the year to promote the fraternity's activities and goals. Physical results of this cooperation were seen in the remodeled kitchen and activities room and the newly installed showers.

PHI KAPPA TAU

The men of Phi Kappa Tau upheld their fine academic standing by capturing the men's scholarship trophy for the sixth consecutive year. A second trophy was earned by the Phi Taus when the men defeated Sigma Phi Epsilon for the intramural football championship.

The addition to the fraternity house on Waugh Avenue was the outstanding achievement of the men this year. Construction, started in mid-July, was completed by the second semester, at which time the men were able to eat meals in the new dining room and to occupy the sleeping quarters. Also included in the addition was a kitchen and a remodeled basement.

Initiating the group's social events was the tea for freshman women in early fall. A highly successful houseparty during the first semester prior to completion of the addition was the "Building Party." The men formally opened the new dining room at their Christmas formal.

SIGMA NU

The activities of Sigma Nu throughout the year included the Freshman Tea, the Christmas Formal, the White Rose Coronation Formal, the All-College Volleyball Tournament, a Rush Smoker, house parties and open houses, and participation in I.F.C. campaigns and intramurals.

Beside sending flowers to the Overlook Hospital, the men sponsored a Help Day in the spring at the Youngstown Settlement House.

This year the fraternity won first place for their Homecoming float, first place for scholarship in Division 5 of Sigma Nu, placed eleventh in the nation among other Sigma Nu chapters for scholarship. Kappa Phi Lambda, the local chapter founded in 1864, is the oldest fraternity on campus. In May the Sigma Nu's held their Centennial Celebration at the Shenango Inn in Sharon, followed by an open house at the Manse.

Mrs. George Renne is hostess and housemother for the local chapter. An active Mothers' Club and alumni organization help the men maintain and improve the house.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The men in Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity this year shared varied activities. In the area of scholarship, the Sig Eps attained the number two rating among men's fraternities on campus. Ronald Hustwit, senior and past-president of the group, was selected to receive one of five national scholarships provided by the William L. Phillips Foundation of the national fraternity; a special recognition banquet was held commemorating the high honor. Intramural sports and participation and leadership in varsity athletics continued to be part of the Sig Ep program. House improvements included a remodeled recreation room and new furniture in the chapter room. Social events for members and guests brought Sig Eps to several houseparties, the annual Sweetheart Dance, Spring Formal, alumni gatherings, Parents' Day luncheon, Tea for Freshmen Women, and Sing and Swing. Limited to one rush program this year, the fraternity welcomed thirty-one new pledges, a substantial nucleus for growth and enthusiasm.

ATHLETICS

Bestwick, Burry, Ridl.

The 1963 Titans emerged as the West Penn Conference co-champions with Waynesburg College. This marked the sixth consecutive year that the Titans have been on the top in the conference standing. It was a year full of great expectation and bitter disappointment but, nevertheless, a year of excitement in the typical Titan tradition.

The Titans traveled to West Virginia for their initial encounter to hand West Virginia Wesleyan a 13-0 defeat in a game dominated by a strong Titan defense. Westminster opened her home season by battling heavily favored Indiana to a 13-13 tie. Grove City followed the path to defeat, 32-13, but the victory was costly for the Titans because several key players were injured. Geneva fell as the next Titan victim, 7-6, on a long fourth quarter pass from Bill Walker to John Bailey. The most thrilling game of the year was the Homecoming Game against Slippery Rock. With one second left in the game, the Titan line nailed the Slippery Rock quarterback in his own end zone for a safety and another win, 9-7. Westminster suffered its first defeat at Waynesburg as the Yellow Jackets piled up a 21-0 lead in the first half and went on to win 34-26. The Titans bounded back to defeat the squad from Glenville College, 19-13, in a game played in rain, snow, and sleet. Westminster traveled to Juniata for the final game of the season where they lost, 16-14, on a fifty-five yard pass play with only two minutes remaining in the game.

The loss of Herb Ellis, one of the finest football players in Westminster's history, definitely hurt the team's chances for an undefeated season. Not only was he missed because of his fine ball handling and passing, but also, because of his tremendous defensive ability. His replacement was Bill Walker, a four year letterman who turned in many fine performances. His most notable game was against Grove City when he came off the bench to lead the Titans with a 76 yard scoring run and some very fine passing, including one for 70 yards. Wayne Swift was the leading ground gainer with 356 yards in 97 carries as well as the leading pass receiver with 229 yards. Ray Lemon, although starting late in the season, finished strongly with many consistently fine performances and a 4.8 yard per carry average, high for the team. Freshman John Bailey came through as the "coach's dream" with many long scoring plays to finish the year as high scorer with 48 points. The fine job done by the backfield was facilitated by the outstanding work of the linemen. Bob Hannigan and Larry Pugh led the charge of the Titans along with Dave Gura and Chuck Day. The defensive unit was sparked by Pugh and Kel McClendon in the middle with Doug Webb and Ray Cebula holding down the outside. In addition, the line was capably backed by the tackling of Dave Kiefer.

The Titans received a considerable share of the post-season recognition. John Bailey was named Freshman of the Year in the West Penn Conference as well as being unanimously selected for the Conference first team along with Larry Pugh. Wayne Swift, Herb Ellis, and Dave Gura were named to the second team while Ray Lemon, Chuck Day, and Ray Cebula received honorable mention.

Dropping only two season meets and winning the West Penn Conference crown, the Titan harriers proved to their new coach, Fran Webster, that they were a fine team. In the big W.P.I.A.C. Meet, Westminster came out on top for the second consecutive year, enabling the Titans with a score of 26 to defeat their strongest rival, Grove City, who totaled 29.

Senior Sam Williams set two new course records at St. Francis and Waynesburg and took first place honors seven times this season. Williams was supported by lettermen Andy Warren, Ed Pollock, and Doug Goss throughout the entire season. The outstanding freshmen were Mike Deckman and Bob Williams. These two men make the 1964 team a potential power.

Titon Co-captains

"Lacks" ends another fastbreak.

With 30 seconds left, Dave Schrecengost drove the length of the court to drop in the winning basket against Alliance. Thus began one of the Towering Titons' most successful seasons. Led by the scoring of Bob Oravetz and the skilled ball handling of Lou Skurcenski, the Titons provided their fans with a season of thrills and fine basketball. Under the tutelage of Coach Buzz Ridl, they once again reached the finals for NAIA District #30 and the West Penn Conference Championship.

By December 28, the cagers were 5-3, having had their poor showings in the tournaments—the Steel Bowl where Duquesne University and George Washington University handed them defeats and the Gettysburg Bottlefield Tournament where Gettysburg defeated them in the finals. Some fans began to wonder about the Titons. However, they compiled a commendable 12-4 record for the remainder of the season. Three times the Titons scored in triple figures, the highest being 107 against Molone. The NIT bound Pitt Panthers once again defeated them twice, and St. Francis avenged an earlier drubbing they had been given. Unfortunately, the heartbreaker came in the District #30 final. After easily handling Edinboro in the semi-finals, the Kansas City bound cagers were stopped in their tracks by a fired up Mansfield College, which overcame four straight play-off defeats previously handed them by the Titons. Once again Kansas City was a dream.

However, with a 17-7 record, the Titons held their heads high. Because of their fine play, several players received honors. Co-captain Lou Skurcenski received the highest honors, being named NAIA first team All-American. As a result, he helped guide the NAIA All-Stars to third place in the Olympic try-outs. First team honors were also awarded him by NAIA District #30 and the West Penn Conference. He finished his career at Westminster with a record total 958 rebounds and the eighth all time scoring total of 1,182 points. To finish on an outstanding college career, the Philadelphia 76'ers made Lou one of their draft choices. Junior Bob Oravetz led the team in scoring with 21.1 points per game. His fine play awarded him a place on the West Penn Conference first team and a second team position for NAIA District #30. Co-captain Dave Schrecengost, Jack Lockwood, also awarded second team NAIA District #30, and sophomore Dixie Rowlands, who received an honorable mention for NAIA District #30, rounded out the Titon five for 1963-64.

J. V. BASKETBALL

Under the direction of a new coach, Fran Webster, the Little Titans compiled a commendable 9-5 record. With a constant shifting of players to the varsity, they still managed to play good ball as they knocked off the formidable West Virginia University freshmen and the freshmen of Pitt and Duquesne. At the Winter Homecoming, they provided strong competition for the Titan All-Star team, losing only 65-68. With a little hard work the future looks good for Titan basketball.

The 1964 edition of the Titan baseball squad got off to a fairly slow start but bounced back to end the season in first place. The team was led by the excellent pitching of Rick Sewall and Don Wagner. Some spot relief work was done by Terry Shields, Carl Zimmer, and Dave Karlson.

In the slugging department the team was led by Sewall, Tim Bailey, Dave Schrecengost, Bob Milleman, and Jack Ridl.

The Titans displayed their best ability on Parent's Day by downing the Grove City Wolverines by the score of 6-0.

Since Coach Ridl has six returning starters for the nucleus of next year's 1965 squad, the outlook for next year's team is a bright one.

TRACK

The 1964 Titans finished their fourth consecutive season as runner-up to Grave City in the West Penn Conference.

Captained by Sam Williams and Ray Leman and coached by Fran Webster and Dick Bestwick, the trackers boasted many fine individual performers. Most notable was the versatile Gib Armstrong. Performing in the high jump, broad jump, hop-step-jump, javelin, and the high and intermediate hurdles, he brought the team a total of 102 points. The Titans had two very strong one-two combinations in Sam Williams and Andy Warren in the distance events, and John Bailey and Ray Leman in the sprints. Daug Gass, Glen Marshall and Jim Davison were strong in the middle distances as were Tam Peaspanen, Jim Carey, Bill Blackburn, and Jim McCalgin in the field events.

In the shadow of a successful 1964 season, the Titans can look forward to next year because of their youth and added experience.

SWIMMING

The 1963-64 edition of the Titan swimming squad opened its season the second week in September. The team started out with a degree of strength and there were prospects for a good season. It was fortified by the return of Dick Ammon, a hard-working backstroker, and the arrival of Ed Dudek, a freshman. Dudek sparked the Titans throughout the season with his competitive spirit and his first place wins.

Although the swimmers boasted a 2-1 record going into the semester break, the end of the season was not too successful. The loss of Dick Ammon due to graduation and of some freshmen due to probation were factors in this lack of success. After five consecutive defeats, the Titans ended the season with a record of 2 wins and 5 losses.

TENNIS

With only 2 returning lettermen, co-captains Craig Applefield and Jim George, Westminster's tennis team had a 4-4 record this season in the West Penn Conference. Applefield, the number one mon, tallied a singles record of 6 wins and 2 losses. A newcomer to the team, Dixie Rowlands, was fourth man with a 7-1 record.

Since no member from Coach Bill McGinnis' present squad will graduate this year, the outlook is bright for a successful season next year. This year has been primarily a building season with the addition of four very promising freshmen. These first year letter winners were John Appelt, Tom Appelt, John Blackburn, and John Cunningham.

GOLF

The most successful of Westminster's 1964 spring sports squads was Harold Burry's golf team. The team compiled an excellent 10-1 season record with a mark of 6-0 in WPC play. The only blemish of the year was an exhibition loss to Washington and Jefferson. The squad showed great power and depth with the aid of 6 returning lettermen. Earl Moyer, John Miklos, and Jock Hamilton came through with excellent performances throughout the season. The highlight of the year was John Miklos' 68 against Duquesne at Green Oaks Country Club in Pittsburgh. This round set a Westminster and WPC record for an 18 hole stroke round. Earl Mayer led the Titans with a 10-1 season record followed by Jock Hamilton, 9-1-1; Jeff Snyder, 9-1-1; Steve Abbey, 9-2; Roy Ambrose, 7-1-3; and John Miklos, 6-4-1.

The WPC tournament at New Castle Country Club proved to be quite competitive as St. Francis nipped the Titans by 1 stroke to dethrone Westminster who had won the tournament the previous two years. Earl Mayer, second in the tournament with a 75, John Miklos and Steve Abbey all won medals in the event. The year proved to be quite successful and the golfers should continue their winning ways as 5 lettermen return next season. Earl Mayer was named the Most Valuable Player for the third consecutive year.

STUDENTS

1964 GRADUATING SENIORS,

During their four years at Westminster, the Class of 1964 has seen the college go through a period of definite change. A Director of Student Affairs has been added to the staff, and the new Dean of Women has relaxed several of the old regulations. Also, chapel requirements have been reduced from five to three chapels a week. At the same time, academic standards have risen sharply, and admission requirements have been tightened considerably. Giving tangible evidence to Westminster's growth is the growing physical plant. For example, the 1964 graduating class observed the construction of the Arts and Science Building; and because the rain drove Commencement inside, it was the first class to graduate in the new auditorium.

The senior class gift of over $800 was given to the library for the purchase of a fireproof cabinet for microfilm and for new books. For the past four years this class has continually voiced its concern for the library situation, and the members of the class felt that they could best show this concern by giving the entire senior gift toward the expansion of the library facilities.

Finally, the class deserves commendation for the splendid group of leaders and scholars that it contains. Thirty-six graduated with honors, more than any other class in the history of the college. Twenty-four graduated Cum Laude, ten graduated Magna Cum Laude, and Robert Golbreath and Renee Sorchet graduated Summa Cum Laude.

EDUCATION IS A CONSTRUCTIVE TOOL

"Education is the knowledge of how to use the whole of oneself. Many men use but one or two faculties out of the score with which they are endowed. A man is educated who knows how to make a tool of every faculty — how to open it, how to keep it sharp, and how to apply it to all practical purposes.

The 1964 AGROSTAFF acknowledges: David Evons and Consolidated Graphic Arts Corporation of Canton, Ohio, for layout assistance and printing arrangements; Neil Bardelli and Abey Studios of Youngstown, Ohio, for portraits, group photographs and the printing of AGROSTAFF negatives; George Stewart and S. K. Smith Company of Chicago for covers; Philip Snyder, Public Relations Office, for information and photographs; the Publications Committee for the giving of freedom to the staff; the business office and mailroom staffs for their patient assistance; and all those who work about the ARGO office in the Student Union building, for their patience and understanding. An expression of appreciation from the Editor to all those who contributed their time and effort to the publication of the 1964 ARGO.

The 1964 ARGO was printed in offset lithography. The paper is 80 pound vellum. The second color used throughout the book is Air Force blue. Type faces: body copy, captions, and identifications—Metrolite and headlines—Venus. The publication contains 248 pages.
